Dear MO HealthNet Participant:

The MO HealthNet Division is responsible for the state's Medicaid program. We want everyone who receives Medicaid benefits to get the care they need. We are sending this letter to tell you about new services that may be available to you.

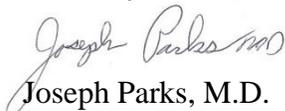

Helping people get the services they want and need can make problems like heart disease, diabetes, or high blood pressure easier to manage. That is why MO HealthNet has been working with behavioral health programs around the state. These programs have trained staff who can talk to you about your healthcare needs and help you find the services that are right for you. There is no cost to you because the services are covered by Medicaid.

Here are some of the ways the behavioral health program works. They can help you:

- Find a doctor if you don't have one;
- Get behavioral healthcare or any special medical treatment needed;
- Schedule and keep track of doctor appointments;
- Track medicine and other medical treatments;
- Talk to doctors and nurses to make sure they are working together;
- Learn how to make lifestyle changes such as exercise, address weight difficulties, and stop smoking;
- Find and stay in housing; and
- Get other benefits available in your community.

Someone from your local behavioral health program will be contacting you soon to tell you more about these benefits and how you can enroll if you are interested.

Sincerely,

Joseph Parks, M.D.
