This drawing is a picture of a little boy wearing a baseball helmet, baseball shoes, shirt and holding a baseball bat. Although this picture might look different to other people, this is what it means to me:

I look at this picture, and I see a boy that is ready for any curve ball that is thrown in his direction.

I see a boy that can jump, run and swing.

I see a boy that if someone knocks him down, he gets up, dusts himself off, and goes for his goal again.

I see a boy that will never give up until he has won.

This is a boy that is inside everyone if they just believe in themselves and go for their goals.
