

Financial Resources for Missouri Children and Youth with Developmental Disabilities

This document has information about programs that can help children and youth with developmental disabilities get some of the services they need. Some programs provide direct services. Other programs help pay for services. Programs may have financial or other eligibility requirements. The services your child receives may depend on individual and family circumstances. For more information, see the Financial Resources Frequently Asked Questions document at <http://dmh.mo.gov/dd/autism/>.
