Job Accommodation Network (JAN)

JAN, which is partially funded through the US Office of Disability Employment Policy, is located at West Virginia University and serves as the national resource center on workplace accommodations and disability employment issues. JAN provides free expert consultation, a database of accommodations and a resource library to assist job seekers, employees, service providers and employers with practical solutions to capitalize on the talent and value of individuals with disabilities in the workplace.

You can learn more about JAN by participating in an upcoming webinar on November 15 at 12:00 pm CST or by visiting their website - <https://askjan.org/>. Registration for the webinar can be accessed here.
