ECHO Program

The University of Missouri's Show-Me ECHO has created a Developmental Disabilities ECHO to support primary care providers and others who serve adult patients. An interdisciplinary team (including physicians, pharmacists, behavior analysts, social workers and family advocates) has been formed to assist providers throughout the state to learn about effective strategies, available resources, optimal psychiatric care and other support services. Click for a schedule of ECHO events.

To register for the program you may visit their website at: <https://showmeecho.org/clinics/developmental-disabilities/>.
