MOADD

The Department of Mental Health announces the MOADD (Missouri Alliance for Dual Diagnosis) mobile application (app) is now available for download. This app provides clinicians with best practice guidelines and approaches in supporting individuals with co-occurring intellectual, developmental, and behavioral health diagnoses.

The content includes approach considerations, supporting literature, and information to make informed decisions regarding the selection, implementation, and monitoring of dual diagnosed individuals. Four co-occurring diagnoses highlighted in the app include Anxiety, Substance Use, Aggression, and Depression. Each diagnosis section identifies recognition, safety concerns, treatment approaches, biological and psychosocial triggering factors, trauma, interventions, and case vignettes. The app can be downloaded from Google Play or iTunes.
