

The Missouri Model: A Developmental Framework for Trauma-Informed Approaches

The implementation of a trauma-informed approach is an ongoing organizational change process. Most people in the field emphasize that a “trauma-informed approach” is not a program model that can be implemented and then simply monitored by a fidelity checklist. Rather, it is a profound paradigm shift in knowledge, perspective, attitudes and skills that continues to deepen and unfold over time. Some leaders in the field are beginning to talk about a “continuum” of implementation, where organizations move through stages. The continuum begins with becoming trauma aware and moves to trauma sensitive to responsive to being fully trauma informed.

Purpose: To ensure that agencies do no harm; to assess the implementation of basic principle of trauma-informed approaches into various organizational settings; to develop a common language and framework for discussion; to help increase the effectiveness of services, wherever and whatever they are, by increasing awareness of trauma.

Application: To a very wide range of settings, including but not limited to behavioral health services

Use:

- Not for formal evaluation or certification, but for informational purposes
- To help anyone who is interested (clients, advocates, other agencies, etc.) determine whether a particular agency or setting is meeting some basic criteria for integration of trauma principles
- To help agencies or settings identify where they are on the continuum and where they want to be. Organizations can choose the appropriate place on the continuum based on their needs and setting.

This document was developed by a group of organizations in the state of Missouri who have been active champions in addressing the impact of trauma and working towards becoming trauma informed organizations. They represent a variety of organizations that serve children, youth, families and/or adults in a variety of settings including healthcare, inpatient psychiatric, substance abuse, and community based mental health services. Anyone is free to use this document but would appreciate notification of such to rachel.jones@dmh.mo.gov. Recommended citation:
